Meriweather in Hall of Fame

Jesse Meriweather, former Romulus High basketball coach and track mentor and present assistant principal at Romulus High, will be among 12 former athletes who will be installed in the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame during its Silver Anniversary.

Meriweather, an all-state cager in Indiana who starred at Michigan City, will be honored at a banquet scheduled for March 24 in Indianapolis.

250 show up for McAnally fete

Some 250 persons showed up at a birthday party for City Treasurer Beverly McAnally last Saturday at the VFW Hall. Among the well-wishers was former Romulus councilman Ed Rush who presented Mrs. McAnally with bumper stickers that read: "It's about time."

Although she hasn't announced her candidacy, close friends say that Mrs. McAnally is getting ready to challenge Mayor Oakley for this city's top elected job.

Mobile park is on agenda

City Council last night was to get down to work on the Wineman Co. proposal to construct a mobile park in the city. The 7 p.m. workshop was scheduled to give councilmen an opportunity to ask the builders questions.

Wineman has received the Planning Commission's "green light" to go ahead with the proposal, but needs council approval.

Little Leaguers raise $700

More than 1,000 breakfasts were served by the Romulus Little League Auxiliary last week and that helped put more than $700 in the coffers.

The Little Leaguers are raising money in order to construct a "first class diamond" this summer, and have other fundraisers scheduled for the spring.

Class of 1973 plans reunion

And he was lucky

Usually when a train hits a vehicle there's nothing left. But, Donald Leland of Romulus should consider himself lucky. His car was struck by an eastbound train Tuesday afternoon on Romaine and Goddard and he managed to walk away from the wreckage only slightly shaken. The train caught the vehicle in the rear. Police said Leland told them the gates were malfunctioning, however, witnesses offered conflicting reports. Leland's wife was in a separate vehicle, following her husband. No one was reported injured.

Break-ins are up in Huron, but so are felony arrests

By MONA GRIGG

Because of the constant increase in crime, there are virtually no safe communities.

But, Huron Township Police Chief Joseph E. Carney is launching a campaign that "may take the bite out of crime." Using the McGruff program, Chief Carney hopes to make residents and citizens aware of their vulnerable spots.

McGruff is that amiable dog used to publicize ways to fight crime. The slogan for the McGruff campaign is: "Take a bite out of Crime."

"I am currently working with Riverside and Miller Elementary school students," Chief Carney informed township board members in a written communique last week, "and we're in the final stages of the McGruff program."

"We are sponsoring poster and slogan contests involving over 600 students. The school seems very receptive to the program and I anticipate some media coverage for the finalists in the contest."

Aiding the chief in the campaign is police officer Jerry Copeland.

Some of the advice that McGruff offers to wary citizens is: Always walk on well-lit streets; Don't walk alone at night; Have your keys ready so you don't fumble around at the car door.

McGruff's "master" can be located at the Crime Prevention Coalition, Box 6600, Rockville, MD 20850.

Police Chief Carney also informed the township board that the Neighborhood Watch program is well under way and that the neighborhood watch signs have arrived, but he'll need to get permission from the county before he can have them installed on the streets.

He noted that break-ins in residential and business buildings were up by 42 percent (145 cases) in 1982, but arrests in such cases are also up — some 1,000 percent. Police arrested 22 persons in 1982 for illegal entry.

In other township news, the Trustees will be able to hear what residents have to say about the township's proposal for Block Grant funds available in 1983.

The board last Wednesday scheduled a Wed., Feb. 9 public hearing to discuss the proposal drawn up by the township's grantsman, John Chihan.

Chihan offered the board a blueprint of what the township could do if some $80,000 in grant funds were made available to the community.

He proposed that $20,000 be used to improve drains in the New Boston area and also earmarked $5,000 for beautification. In the Waltz area, Chihan said that $30,000 could go toward the purchase of a fire truck; $2,000 for the Romulus Help Center and $4,000 to hire a senior citizens' program coordinator.

In the Middlebelt area of the township, Chihan's proposal would allocate $10,000 toward drains and $4,000 for the purchase of picnic tables and a shelter.

Town & Country Restaurant

Police raid nets drugs, $50,000 in fireworks

Romulus police, working in cooperation with the State of Michigan Department of Treasury agents and narcotics officers from the Michigan State Police raided the Town & Country Restaurant on Ecorse Rd. Thursday morning and confiscated a large quantity of suspected stolen cigarettes, narcotics, and hundreds of cases of illegal fireworks.

Along with confiscating the illegal contraband, police and agents took possession of the restaurant's business and tax sales records, according to Det. Sgt. David Early of the Romulus Police Department.

Police said that they will seek a warrant charging either the restaurant owner or the operator on several counts, including violation of the state's gambling law and possible possession of stolen property and illegal fireworks.

According to Lee Silvey, Romulus City Ordinance Director, the retail value of the fireworks is approximately $50,000.

The law enforcement officers served the operator of the restaurant, John Mazzei, 60, search warrants for the premises. They said they found $10,000 worth of untaxed cigarettes on the premises, two unlicensed cigarette vending machines, along with numerous weapons and a slot machine.

No one was arrested at the time, pending further investigation and action by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, police officers said.

Questioned whether the cigarettes were stolen, Det. Early replied "at this time, we can say that they were priced tagged from different stores in the area."

The narcotics were in the forms of pills and capsules which were taken from the restaurant's safe after the warrants were served, police said. They added that the safe also contained five handguns.

The restaurant, a popular stop-over for truckers, is located at 27408 Ecorse Rd. Agents said that cigarettes were being sold over the counter and that there was alleged gambling on the premises. It is against state law to keep a slot machine on the premises.

In order to haul away the fireworks, DPW trucks were utilized. It took five trucks to cart away the illegal fireworks.

Police said that they also used a state police narcotics dog to help in the search for drugs.

The restaurant is owned by Mazzei's daughter, police said. She was not on the premises when the police raided it.

Huron has sewer rate problems

Why should one township pay more for sewage disposal than another?

Why is one rate so high for one community and much lower in the neighboring city?

That's the question that the Huron Township Board of Trustees want the Wayne County Circuit Court to answer. The township, in December of 1981, refused to pay an increase in rates slapped on it by the Wayne County Board of Public Works and went to court to get some relief.

Because they refused to pay the increased rate, however, Huron finds itself owing the county approximately $110,000.

"We went to court," explained township treasurer Christine Gamber, "because we want some answers to some pertinent questions. Why is one community being charged less than another? It's our contention that all communities in Wayne County should be charged a uniform rate."

Mrs. Gamber said that the county charges Huron $2,400 per million gallon, while neighboring Romulus has a flat rate of $600 plus an additional $150 for a previous debt. "We believe that the rate structure is completely out of line with the services."

Ms. Gamber added that she didn't know if a court date had been set to hear the complaint. Township attorney Richard James was not available for comment at press time.

A.J. Haener told the board last Wednesday that the township should place a note in the bills it sends out to residents cautioning them that "if the township should lose the case, the township would be liable to make the payment."

Trustee Gary Bates said he felt (See HURON, Page A-3)

State Police Narcotics' agents when they raided the Town & Country Restaurant.

It's a hoax

Please don't charge it to Burt

Don't bill that long distance call to Burt.

That's the message Michigan Bell and Burt Reynolds have for anyone who may have heard the rumor that the popular Hollywood actor is sharing his telephone credit card with his fans.

"I have no idea how the rumor started," Reynolds said recently, "but I'd like to clear the air once and for all — there just isn't any truth to it."

"I'm sorry my name is being used in this fraudulent manner," he continued. "I feel as much a victim as the people who have been misled by this whole scam."

Where the rumor came from and how it snowballed is a mystery to everyone.

The Burt Reynolds hoax, which first surfaced a couple of years ago, goes something like this: Reynolds supposedly won a large cash settlement in a lawsuit against a major company. Not needing the money, he allegedly announced in the media that people could use his telephone credit card to place long distance calls until the money from the suit ran out.

"The story is pure fiction and its costing Michigan Bell customers thousands of dollars a week," according to Harold N. Peacock, head of Michigan Bell's security department.

The phony credit card number, along with other details of the story, change constantly, making it difficult for Michigan Bell to stop the bogus calls, Peacock said.

"But we are making every effort to track down callers who use the number and bill the long distance charges back to them," he added.

Peacock said Michigan Bell's main concern now is putting an end to the Reynolds rumor.

"The use of a phony Burt Reynolds credit card number may seem innocent, but it really is fraud," he said. "It's against the law and it's punishable by a $500 fine and six months in jail."

"Moreover, all three million Michigan Bell customers end up sharing the financial burden of schemes of this nature," Peacock added.

"In the last year, long distance fraud — including credit card fraud — cost Michigan Bell customers $7 million in the form of higher charges on their phone bills."

The companies, K.R. Enterprises, and R.E.A.M. (Romulus Eagles American Made) are being counseled by employees of both Kelsey-Hayes and Detroit Diesel.

The Romulus center is one link in a chain of 250 Junior Achievement programs across the nation. Junior Achievement provides practical experience in the private enterprise system.

Among the many activities, J.A. members are involved in the outstanding young businessmen and women competition which was held at RHS. Winners were Craig Evens and Sherry Rush. After the regional competition in Plymouth on January 8th, Sherry is now a finalist in the Southeastern Michigan outstanding young businesswomen competition.

There will be an open house on Thurs., Jan. 27 from 3-5 at Romulus High School. The public is invited.

Depositor Protection Accounts

Depositor protection accounts are represented by the sum of the capital, debt and reserves of the company which are all subordinate to depositors' claims and therefore provide a measure of financial strength and security.

Michigan National Corporation continues to maintain a very strong position in this measure of financial strength relative to that of many competing financial institutions which have allowed this important ratio to deteriorate to as low as 3 to 5 percent of total assets. At December 31, 1982 Michigan National's depositor protection accounts, which are summarized to the right, represented 7.2 percent of total assets.

Total common shareholders' equity	$335,730,000
Redeemable preferred stock	10,000,000

Agency seeks unemployed youth for job training programs

Young adults, 18-21 years old, are being recruited for job training by two local agencies. Growthworks, Incorporated in Plymouth and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne are currently enrolling unemployed area residents in the Youth Employment Training Projects funded by grants from the Wayne County Employment and Training Administration (WCETA).

Applicants must be a resident of western Wayne County excluding Livonia and Dearborn. Trainees must also be economically disadvantaged or have learning disabilities to be eligible. Unemployed women are especially encouraged to apply.

The programs provide basic job training, employability skills, work experience, foundation or survival skills, counseling, supportive services, and job placement.

For those specifically interested in those fields, Growthworks also offers building trades skills while the Extension Service offers horticultural vocational training.

In addition, The Extension Service provides handicap employability training and assistance overcoming learning disabilities. Trainees earn minimum wage while they are enrolled in the programs.

"We're looking for highly motivated individuals who want to develop the skills they need to compete in today's difficult job market," pointed out Paul Chamberlain, Program Coordinator at Growthworks.

WCETA youth programs were some of the most successful in the state during fiscal year 1982 in spite of record unemployment in the area. Over 150 trainees from the Growthworks and Extension Service programs were placed in jobs last year.

Gary Greenwell, Program Manager at the Extension Service added "Much of our success goes beyond simply gaining jobs. We help youth grow into responsible adults as they develop a whole range of life skills they will use in the years to come."

Interested people who believe they are eligible should contact the Extension Service at 721-6550 from 9-12 p.m. or 1-4 p.m. Monday through Friday or Growthworks at 455-4093 from 9-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Detroit-area homes 'affordable'

While the average price paid for an existing home across the nation last year hovered around the $80,000 level, buyers in the Detroit metropolitan area enjoyed more affordable buys.

Year-end statistics from the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR) indicate an average price of $56,685 during 1982. The board, the state's largest, reported a December average price of $58,833.

A national report on home prices through November showed western state residents continuing to face the highest average price of $113,900. Those in the South were looking at a $78,200 average, only marginally better than the north-east where the average was $77,000.

For Michigan and its neighboring north central states, the collective average was $61,900. The highest average prices nationally and in most regions were reached in June. They dropped off in the fall months before showing modest recovery toward year's end.

The WWOCBR statistics show that more than 80 percent of the 8,468 buyers served by its members in 1982 found housing below the national average price.

The figures reveal that nearly half of local buyers (49.5 percent) paid less than $50,000. About 18 percent found homes for less than $30,000, 15.8 percent were in the $30,000-$39,000 price range and the other 15.7 percent paid between $50,000 and $49,999.

At the upper end of the price scale, 4.6 percent of buyers through WWOCBR members paid more than $120,000 and 4.1 percent between that figure and $100,000.

The percentage of buyers in other price ranges included 13.8 in the $50,000s, 10.7 in the $60,000s, 7.9 in the $70,000s, 5.7 in the $80,000s and 3.8 in the $90,000s.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By John Brimble

Make your own chocolate leaves for garnish with 3 ounces semisweet chocolate pieces and 2 tsp. shortening. Melt over hot water until smooth, then "paint" onto the underside of clean lemon leaves from the florist. Chill, then peel off natural leaves.

Or spread melted chocolate on a waxed paper circle, cut into wedges and remove carefully. Place on frosting flat or standing on edge.

Braille menus are now available for blind patrons at some restaurant-and-hotel chains.

Sophisticated caterers are serving fresh fruit desserts at fancy parties. Example: after a rich Italian meal, one fresh fig and a couple of almond macaroon cookies.

The easy way to core pears: use a melon baller. And for a real taste treat, fill the centers with bleu cheese!

The easy way to serve dinner tonight: bring everyone to Captain Nemo's Submarine Sandwiches. You all deserve a treat.

IRA's, special deductions take the bite out of taxes

1982 has come and gone. April 15 is on the way and that means federal income taxes will be due. Whether you fill out the tax forms yourself or have someone prepare them for you, it will pay you to know about new changes in the tax laws that affect you.

The tax cuts passed in 1981 will have some of their first impact this year. Here are some of the provisions that might help you when you get all your tax information together this year.

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs)

You could hardly have been reading the newspaper or listening to TV this past year and not heard about IRAs. Starting in 1982 and up to filing time — April 15, 1983 — any person with earned income in 1982 can open an IRA. Even couples with a non-employed spouse have the opportunity to set aside some retirement income for each spouse.

Up to $2,000 per worker (or $2,250 in total for a couple including a nonemployed spouse) can be set aside this year. Not only will that amount not be counted as income for both federal and state taxes this year, but any interest earned will also be tax deferred.

IRAs do have some restrictions: you cannot withdraw the money until you are at least 59½ years old or you will pay both a penalty and income taxes on the money you withdrew.

Marriage Penalty Deduction

Many families with two income earners have found that they pay higher taxes as a married couple than they would if they were two singles. The new marriage deduction allows the spouse with the lower income to deduct up to 5 percent, or a maximum of $1,500 before taxes are figured. This deduction is available whether you itemize or not.

Child Care

The child care tax credit for families with children under the age of 15 is now figured on a sliding scale depending on income.

Many families will be able to take a larger tax credit this year than in previous years. A tax credit is subtracted directly from the tax bill you owe. Be sure you have good records to support this expense. You will need to use the long federal tax form 1040, even if you take the standard deduction, and form 2441, Credit for Child Care Expenses.

Special Charity Deduction

Taxpayers who do itemize their deductions can deduct a portion on their charitable contributions this year. The amount is 25% of the first $100 contribution or a maximum of $25.

Adoption Expense Deduction

If you are adopting a handicapped or minority child, check into the adoption deduction. It provided a maximum of $1,500 for certain expenses such as adoption fees, court costs and attorney fees.

Knowing about these new changes now may help you to claim all the credits and deductions you are eligible for and perhaps prevent you from having to do your return over, says Vanessa Harris, Extension Home Economist in Wayne County.

Archdiocese will ordain three bishops

Three new auxiliary bishops of the Archdiocese of Detroit will be ordained on Thursday, Jan. 27, at 3 p.m., in Detroit's Blessed Sacrament Cathedral.

Archbishop Edmund C. Szoka will be the principal consecrator at the episcopal ordinations of the Most Rev. Moses B. Anderson, S.S.E.; Patrick R. Cooney, and Dale J. Melczek.

The nation's first black bishop, Harold R. Perry, S.V.D., of New Orleans; Bishop Arthur H. Krawczak, retired auxiliary bishop of Detroit; and all other bishops present also will be consecrators.

Thirty-one bishops, three archbishops and hundred of priests, sisters and lay people are expected at the ordination. Because of space limitations at the Cathedral, attendance is by invitation only.

The public is invited to a reception following the ordination, to be held from 6 to 8 p.m. in Cobo Hall's River Room.

Among those attending the ordination will be Cardinal John F. Dearden, retired Archbishop of Detroit, and Archbishops James A. Hickey of Washington, D.C., David E. Pilarczyk of Cincinnati, and Oscar Lipscomb of Mobile, Ala. Also expected are the five other black Catholic bishops of the United States — Joseph Francis of Newark, N.J.; Joseph Howze of Biloxi, Miss.; Joseph Lyke of Cleveland; Eugene Marino of Washington, D.C.; and Emerson Moore of New York.

With the ordination of Bishops Anderson, Cooney and Melczek, there will be five auxiliary bishops in the Archdiocese of Detroit. The other bishops are Thomas J. Gumbleton and Walter J. Schoenherr.

Archbishop Szoka has announced new responsibilities for the bishops in regard to the five geographical regions of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Bishop Anderson will serve as regional bishop for the West Region. Bishop Cooney as regional bishop for the Northeast Region and Bishop Melczek as regional bishop for the Northwest Region.

Garden City church is site of nuclear arms freeze meeting

"The Carrot and the Stick: Survival versus Survival," a program of poetry, music and discussion concerning the nuclear arms race will be offered at the First United Methodist Church, 6443 Merriman Road, Garden City, between Warren and Ford at Maplewood, Sunday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to share human concerns on several levels, to raise consciousness about the nuclear weapons situation and what area residents are trying to do about it, and to help raise funds to send a delegate to the national weapons freeze campaign meeting in St. Louis, Mo. on Feb. 4, 5 and 6. The delegate will represent the 15th Congressional District, but will also bring back reports to the Western Wayne County Nuclear Weapons Committee and interested area groups. There will be no admission charged for the program, but a collection will be taken.

Rosina Raymond, trustee at Schoolcraft College, will read poetry, as will Michael Gramlich, the principal Speaker-coordinator for the event. Gramlich is a veteran of more than seven years' service with the U.S. Marine Corps and witnessed an atomic bomb test in Nevada in 1952. He has been involved since 1959 in helping bring a clearer understanding of the impact of nuclear weaponry and other mega-kill technologies on the human psyche. He is author of "(Love) Notes from Ground Zero" and has served as a full-time volunteer with the Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaigns in Detroit, Milwaukee and California.

Anyone wishing further information about the Jan. 30 program may call Michael Gramlich at 427-6166, or Johanne Fechter, chairperson of the Western Wayne County Nuclear Weapons Freeze Committee at 455-2149.

Bishop Schoenherr will continue as regional bishop for the South Region. Bishop Gumbleton will serve as Vicar General for Archdiocesan Services and as regional bishop for the Core City Region.

Bishop Anderson, 54, is Detroit's first black Catholic bishop. He is a member of the Society of St. Edmund and comes to Detroit from All Saints Parish in Anniston, Ala., where he served as pastor.

Bishop Anderson was born in Selma, Alabama, and is the son of Mrs. Nancy King Anderson. He has three brothers — Earl, Herman and Sandy — and one sister, Lola.

Bishop Anderson was ordained to the priesthood on May 30, 1958, after studies at St. Michael College, Winooski, Vermont; and St. Edmund Seminary, Burlington, Vermont.

Bishop Patrick Cooney, 48, has served as Director of the Department of Worship of the Archdiocese of Detroit since January of 1969 and as pastor of Blessed Sacrament Cathedral since June of 1977.

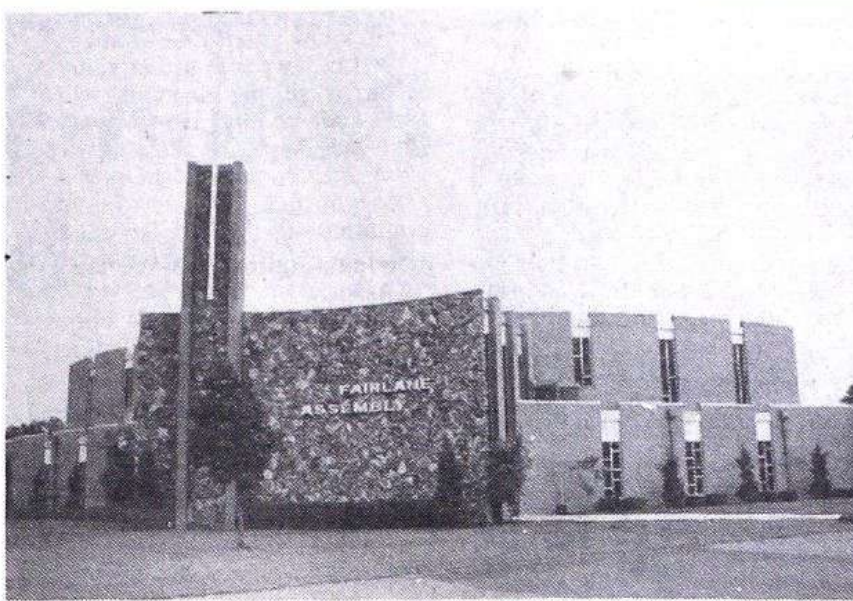

Bishop Cooney was born in Detroit and is the son of the late Michael and Elizabeth Cooney of Dearborn. His brother, Michael, is a priest of the Archdiocese and a sister is a religious. Sr. Leontia Cooney, O.P. also serves the Church of Detroit. A second sister, Mary Alice Cooney, is a local area resident.

Bishop Cooney was ordained to the priesthood on Dec. 29, 1959, after studies at Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit, and the Gregorian University in Rome.

Bishop Melczek, 44, has served as Secretary to Archbishop Szoka and Vicar General since May of 1981. Previously, he served as Vicar General and Secretary to Cardinal Dearden.

Bishop Melczek is a native of Dearborn. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius Melczek of Dearborn. He has two sisters, Sharon Lipinski and Teri Philo.

Bishop Melczek was ordained to the priesthood on June 6, 1964 after studies at St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, and St. John's Provincial Seminary, Plymouth.

FAIRLANE ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Christian Church sponsors fat club

The Christian Church of God, located at 5455 S. Wayne Road, at the corner of Glover, Wayne, is starting a program to help overweight people control their eating.

The Help Lord, I'm Fat Club will use fasting and prayer and the Bible as an approach to a trim and attractive body. The program will be under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. James E. Beatty, D.D.

"The devil wants you fat, wants to hinder the work of God, wants you to doubt God's Word so you will not prosper," he said. "As children of God, we can fight that (devil) influence."

The Help Lord, I'm Fat Club will teach people how the devil influences their eating, how to deal with appetite and how to deprogram themselves from bad eating habits.

Rev. Beatty has a doctor's degree in drugless therapy and natural healing from the American Institute of Science and the Lincoln College of Naturopathic Physicians in Indiana.

The Fat Club will meet at the church starting Saturday, Feb. 5, at 10:30 a.m. For registration call the church on Tuesdays between 10 a.m. and 12 noon, or on Thursday evenings between 6 and 7 p.m. There is no fee for joining the club. Weekly dues are 25 cents, if you gain weight, and 5 cents if you lose weight. All sincere persons wanting to take weight off are invited to attend. Limit is 75 people.

Read Joshua 24:14-18

We must continually make decisions. The decisions that worry us most are those that bring consequences we will have to live with for a long time: choosing a career, choosing a marriage partner, buying a house, having an operation. If our decision to serve or not serve God were treated with the same care and consideration of future consequences, fewer people would be indifferent toward that decision.

Joshua had to deal with people who were inconsistent. Some worshiped the gods that tradition had given them. Others worshiped the gods of those lands through which they had passed. Still others had adopted the gods of the land which they had come. Joshua gathered the people together to make an urgent decision about whom they would serve. Speaking for himself and his household, Joshua said firmly, "We will serve the Lord."

Joshua had made a wise decision and expressed it firmly in front of the people. One person's firm statement of faith can lead other people to God.

PRAYER: Almighty God, help us to choose wisely whom we will serve. Give us courage to make that decision known to all. Through Christ Jesus.

Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: The decision to serve the Lord is the most significant decision we will ever make.

BY HOLDING UP HIS ARMS, THE BATTLE WAS WON!

THE FIRST BATTLE THE ISRAELITES ENGAGED IN, AFTER THEIR ESCAPE FROM EGYPT, IS RECORDED IN EXODUS-CHAP 17. THE AMALEKITES THREATENED THEIR SAFETY WHILE ENCAMPTED AT REPHIDIM. WHILE HE HELD IT HIGH, THE BATTLE WENT WELL BUT, AFTER A NUMBER OF HOURS, HIS ARMS TIRED AND DROPPED—THEN THE AMALEKITES BEGAN TO WIN. AARON AND HUR SAW THIS AND, SEATING MOSES ON A ROCK, THEY HELD HIS ARMS ON HIGH AND....

...ONCE AGAIN, THE BATTLE WENT WELL AND THEY CONTINUED TO HOLD MOSES' ARMS ALTOFT THROUGHOUT THE LONG DAY UNTIL THE AMALEKITES WERE DECISIVELY BEATEN!

Pecan Coffeecake

This winter season, fill your home with more warmth than ever before. Invite friends over for coffee or brunch and share homemade treats such as yeast breads.

The Cinnamon Pecan Coffeecake, pictured here, created by the Fleischmann's® Yeast Test Kitchen, follows the experts' claims. Its delicate sweetness is hard to beat and its 90-minute preparation time allows you more time to spend with loved ones.

PECAN COFFEECAKE

2 1/4 to 2 3/4 cups unsifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package Fleischmann's® Active Dry Yeast
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup water
4 tablespoons Fleischmann's® Margarine
1 egg (at room temperature)
Melted Fleischmann's® Margarine
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 cup Planters® Pecan Chips
1/4 cup flour

In a large bowl thoroughly combine 3/4 cup flour, sugar, salt and undissolved Fleischmann's® Active Dry Yeast.

Combine milk, water and 2 tablespoons Fleischmann's® Margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120°F-130°F). Margarine does not need to melt. Add milk mixture and egg to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1/4 cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board; knead 2 to 3 minutes, until smooth. Roll dough out to a 10-inch square. Brush with melted margarine.

Combine sugar, cinnamon and Planters® Pecan Chips; set half of mixture aside. Sprinkle center third of square with 2 tablespoons nut mixture. Fold one third of dough over center third. Sprinkle with 3 tablespoons nut mixture. Fold remaining third of dough over, making 3 layers. Cut crosswise into 10 strips, each 1-inch wide. Take hold of ends of each strip and twist tightly in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly. Arrange strips in two rows in a greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking pan. Combine reserved cinnamon nut mixture with 1/4 cup flour. Cut in remaining 2 tablespoons margarine until mixture resembles coarse meal. Sprinkle over dough.

On bottom rack of cold oven pour boiling water into a large baking pan to a depth of 1-inch. Place dough on wire rack over pan of water. Cover. Close oven door and let rise 30 minutes. Uncover dough and remove pan of water and rack. Turn oven to 375°F. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack.

Patton-Smith vows read at Presbyterian Church

The newly-wed Harry D. Pattons took up residence in Rockwood following their five-day honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nev. Laurie Lynn Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Smith of 37409 Walnut St., Romulus, became Mrs. Patton in a recent ceremony at the United Presbyterian Church of Belleville.

The six thirty rite was conducted by The Rev. Robert Mc Creight before some 125 relatives and friends including the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Patton of Rockwood.

Brian W. Hall, soloist, sang three numbers: "The Wedding Song," "My Treasure" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

Escorted by her father, the bride walked down the aisle in a white organza gown designed with a high lace collar above a cape-like illusion bodice accented with seed pearls. The A-line skirt, edged with a Chantilly lace flounce, cascaded into a chapel train as she walked.

She wore a fingertip illusion veil banded in matching lace and carried a wicker basket filled with white roses and rosebuds, lilies of the valley, lavender silk baby's breath, a yellow rosebud, green eucalyptus and dried baby's breath all trimmed with lavender ribbon.

As her sister's honor attendant, Holly D. Morris of Brighton wore a long purple gown with a matching lace jacket. She tucked a comb holding lavender lilies of the valley and baby's breath in her hair and held a wicker basket filled with dusty rose and lavender roses, rosebuds and, ivory chantilly with lavender ribbon for accent.

Bridesmaids in identical lilac gowns were Bernice Patton, the bridegroom's sister, and Linda Kelley.

Heather Morris, six, was her aunt's flower girl in a little white frock imprinted with tiny orchid rosebuds. She carried a basket similar to the senior attendants' and wore a headband of matching flowers in her hair.

Jerry Portelli of Rockwood served as best man and ushers were Carl Patton of Wyandotte and Mack Smith of Romulus, brothers of the bridal couple.

At the reception, which followed at Belle Plaza Hall in Belleville, guests were greeted by Mrs. Smith in a floor-length mauve gown and Mrs. Patton, the bridegroom's mother, in a formal peach gown. Both were honored with corsages to match their outfits.

A 1976 graduate of Romulus High School, the new Mrs. Patton is employed at Header Products, Inc. of Romulus. Her husband, a 1972 alumnus of Roosevelt High School in Wyandotte, is employed by the Michigan State Police at Flat Rock.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents at their home in Romulus.

Women's meet given South Seas touch

The Belleville United Presbyterian Women's Association held its Jan. 11 meeting in the church parlor and took a surprise trip to the South Seas via colorful slides shown by Betty Paris who also narrated her trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

Fifteen members were on hand to take part in a Hawaiian dance demonstration and hula class conducted by Vivian Otto of Vivian's School of Dance in Wayne.

Barbara LaLonde was hostess for the evening and prepared and served a buffet characteristic to the Islands. An avid cook, her menu included lomi salmon, an appetizer; ono, a roast pork dish, and malakahiki moa, Hawaiian chicken.

With "titles" such as Royal, Baron, Castle, Earl, King, Knight, Nobles, Gentry and Squires would you expect them to live in palaces or have the ear of the reigning monarch?

Bean, Bacon, Berry, Coffey, Fish. Would it be corny to imagine "Bacon's Meat Market," "Coffey's Donut Shop" or "Fishes Aquarium Supplies" emblazoned on their fictional stores?

A culinary spot on a TV talk show is where I'd expect to find Kitchen, Plate, Potts (all four of 'em), Bowles, Spicer, Erb, Pepper and Rice.

As for holidays, there are no Armistices, no Memorials, no Thanksgivings or Independences of course! But, voila! there are a half dozen Easters and with it heading our way — two Valentines, appropriately enough.

Do you suppose the Humbles and Meeks are? Or that the Beaches and Bays hate water? You might wonder, too, if the Scots (all 32 of 'em), Germans, Englishes, Poles, Frenches, Britains, Irishes, Irelands and Irelands have any ties with their "namesakes".

As for occupations and professions, think of the novel address labels, stationery, mailboxes, monograms which could be designed for the Shoemakers, Archers, Carpenters, Counturiers, Shoemans, Bakers, Barbers, Boatmans, Butchers, Judges or Cooks.

Three Nines and two Sixes are numbered among the names that count.

Although five Summers, one Fall, four Winters and eight Wintres could be located, there was nary a sign of Spring.

A gal could just go on and on; there are really many more possibilities — opposites, for instance: 37 Wrights but no Wrongs; three Riches offset by three Poores; two Weeks by a half dozen Strongs. Think of all the others!

In hunting for a Mann(er) in which to close this Pease, I looked but found no finale. But you know what? The Enders family came to my rescue. And this is the end!

THE BOTTOM LINE: Inflation and high interest rates are causing some folks to keep their cars until they own them.

potpourri

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

It was a disappointing and complicated day when Ma Bell decided to consolidate little ol' Belleville and Romulus with their bigger sisters — Livonia, Wayne, Westland, Plymouth, Taylor, Garden City, Farmington, Novi and a number of surrounding townships as well — into a quadruple-columned telephone book.

Currently numbering 392 pages, which don't even include the 988 famous yellow ones, introductory or explanatory sections or the 10 sheets of Gold Page coupons, the gigantic tome has taken away our individuality.

It just never seemed fair to have our minute area slapped together with such biggies as Livonia. It made us a nonentity — the filling for a big Wayne County sandwich.

Using that monster-like volume (it's even hard to handle), you can waste a heckuva lot of time searching for a Johnson, Williams, Davis or Miller if you're minus a first name. That's how we often find ourselves here at the newspaper; we get surnames but no addresses and inevitably are missing a phone number when there's a need to check on or question a story.

I miss the slim little books which gave exclusivity to a town or small city. I miss the ease with which I could find a Jones or Clark or Taylor. And I miss the diversion they could provide. Did you ever stop at a motel in an unpopulated area and look through its telephone book? Some of the best reading — unusual names and name combinations and the prominence of certain names — can be found in "little" directories.

Having moved from the hustle, bustle and "big books" of Wayne County, however, I once again have a nice, slenderized paperback with only five small areas for dialing. And, too, the chance to do this type article which was suggested to me rather a long time ago. Deciding to give it a go using the smaller book, I thereby did a little reading (GTE-style) — hunting for and finding lots of categories on which to expound.

For instance, do you suppose the following folks are as religious as their names imply? Angell, Bible, Bishop, Blessing, Church, Monk, Serafin, Pope, Temple?

Wouldn't you expect Fox, Lamb, Bassett, Katz, Beevers, Beagles, Wolf — at least one of that menagerie — or Beavers, Bull, Deer, Dove, Duckworth to perhaps to be a veterinarian, kennel owner or furrier?

Any of this sextet — Posey, Blooms, Pine, Pines, Flowers, Rose — could be involved with a nursery, greenhouse, florist shop or landscaping service. None was followed by those descriptions.

Then there are some 200 folks whose names stir up the image of a giant paint pallet or huge box of crayons. You might call them the "colorful" members of the community. The 85 Browns far outnumber their closest counterparts, the Whites with their mere 32 listings. Twenty-nine Greens or Greenes come next with the Grays 16 in close pursuit. One Blue, nine Blacks and two Purples (believe it or not!) cover the super-sized color wheel along with the Redmans, Pinkards and Pinkertons. The only Yellow was that of a Freight system and no one bears the name "Orange."

Size-wise, the Biggs, Littles, Longs and five Shorts fill that category while the Footes, Heads and Hands take care of the anatomy section.

Appel, Appleman, Applebee, Spies, Cherry, Lemon — any of 'em would be perfect in the orchard or produce business. Can't you just see that sign advertising "Mr. Appel's Orchard"?

Or how about making an appointment with Mr. Money or Miss Profit regarding that loan? Or getting some small change from Miss Penny or Mr. Pence at the bank?

One April, a May and six Junes could make up a quarter of the year's calendar. The August Company (a gift shop) doesn't count but rates a mention.

Views On Dental Health

By PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S.

COSMETIC CONTOURING

Dentistry has several techniques it can use to improve the appearance of the teeth. One of these, cosmetic contouring, is one of the most dramatic yet simplest and least expensive ways of improving a smile. It involves the reshaping of teeth to make them more esthetically appealing.

A patient, for example, may have long pointed canines (eye teeth) that distort the smile. By simply rounding off the pointed edges, the smile becomes balanced and normal. The chewing edges of a woman's teeth may wear down and become jagged and square. Smoothing and rounding them will restore the softness and femininity to her smile.

Before restorations are designed, it is important for the dentist to get an overview of the mouth. Teeth that are extruded or crowded should be cosmetically contoured and the crowns then shaped to conform to a more esthetic environment.

Shaping a crown properly is paramount to a pleasing appearance. The shape is what the eye notices first. If the patient has a corresponding natural tooth, duplicating that shape gives the best results.

Task force to help needy is a must

In good times, the ranks of the needy dwindle. And only a few organizations and charity groups extend their hands to help; in bad times — and these are bad times — the ranks of the needy swell and engulf some who had never known what it is like to "have not".

Last week, at Beverly School in Romulus, the Wayne Metropolitan Community Services Agency held a workshop entitled: "Serving the Poor and New Needy — A Community Challenge". With more than 17 percent of the state's working population in unemployment lines, the workshop indeed hit home.

The participants, members of service agencies throughout the out-Wayne County area, are very much concerned with the new needy and, understandably. The so-called "old needy" know the maze they must conquer in order to receive help; those who are not familiar with the bureaucratic red tape, usually give up after a couple of dead-ends.

"The new needy," says Reverend Chesmond Bade, Chairman of the WMCSA Board of Directors, "find themselves for the first time in their lives facing a need and don't know where to turn, and that's why we are here."

And one of the reasons they were there was to share information among those agencies that are offering help and aid to those in need.

Those who took part in this worthwhile workshop stressed that "it is a community challenge to lift those who are down and out. None is immune from the spreading and mushrooming lines of unemployment."

The Associated Newspapers will continue to publish the "Hunger Hotline" and update it so that those who need the pertinent data may obtain it on these pages. Although the county and state are financially strapped and have limited resources left to them, there are agencies that are willing to provide assistance when and if needed.

And, when this cloud of depression ends — and it will — we hope that the task force called for during this meeting will continue to exist until area-wide hunger is a thing of the past.

Some facts not reported about W C. Hospital

I am aggravated, disgusted and angered — by Robbie Timmons' report on Wayne County (presented on the 11 p.m. broadcast on January 11th). Her broadcast presented a very biased, negative view of Wayne County General Hospital and has convinced me even more that news reporting, whether by television, radio, or newspapers, does nothing but distort the facts.

It was reported that AFSCME employees of the hospital are without a contract, the previous contract having expired July 1, 1982. What was not reported was the fact that a majority of Wayne County employees, including hospital employees, belong to 11 separate and distinct unions and that many of the unions (not only AFSCME) are presently in negotiations with Wayne County government.

Also not reported was that AFSCME did, in fact, tentatively negotiate an agreement in which no economic improvements over the last agreement were sought; the tentative agreement awaited ratification, but the County Commissioners rescinded the agreement by eliminating the grievance/arbitration procedures and the cost-of-living allowance (COLA).

At a later date, the issue of COLA for the remaining budget year was resolved when it was pointed out to the Commissioners that they were trying to balance the County Budget on the backs of AFSCME employees and that they (the Commissioners) could be charged with an unfair labor lawsuit.

When reporting salaries, it is never reported that an entry level clerical position at the Road Commission receives over $1,500 more than an entry level clerical position at the Hospital and yet you report that hospital employees are better paid and you always quote the Road Commission's salaries when referring to the Hospital. With the recent vast reduction in staff (the Hospital is always hit the hardest), the work load has been spread to the remaining employees — but no additional monetary compensation has been given for increased job responsibilities.

It is unfair to the employees, patients, and visitors of Wayne County General Hospital to present to the citizens of Wayne County a story so slanted that it appears that the County's deficit problems exist because of the Hospital. Let me remind you that the indigent patients are served by Wayne County General Hospital, many of which are the laid-off workers who have lost all forms of medical insurance coverage; and many more, possibly including you and me, may be knocking on the doors of the Hospital seeking medical help.

Since Wayne County General Hospital is the major trauma center for Western Wayne County, one would think that you would stress this fact to your viewers and report the truth, thus fulfilling your moral obligations.

They still love Pat

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

On August 10, 1982 Patricia Cullin's political enemies thought they had finally buried her.

For on that day they recalled Mrs. Cullin and four members of the Van Buren Township Board of trustees. Cullin had served as the township's top elected official — its supervisor.

But Saturday night, the ex-supervisor's star shone brightly again as national, state, county and local elected officials teamed with friends and relatives to pay homage to the woman who had endured much criticism, even a brief stay in the county jail, for the residents of the township.

Ironically, the man who arrested Mrs. Cullin and six other members of the township board, Wayne County Sheriff-designate, Loren Pittman, was also in the crowd. The township board was jailed for contempt of court when they failed to heed a judge's warning that if they didn't approve a hook-in to a sewer line requested by a developer, then it would be off to the jail block.

Commendations from government sources, included a telegram from William Ford; resolutions from the state, read by State Rep. Edward Mahalak, words of praise from Bill Lucas, the county's chief executive, and from county commissioner Milton Mack.

And, although the job description doesn't tell you, any one in elected office soon discovers that the number of friends made soon equals the number of enemies made and, if at election time, you can keep your enemies from really frustrating you by making you say something you really didn't want to say.

The star and the starbust of politics has always been fascinating. The pursuit of a political office is like, I have always felt, a mirage — once there you find it really wasn't what you thought it was.

Saturday night was Pat's night. She dominated the floor, and you know that there will be a political comeback soon. She is learning a lot in her premature retirement and she says she's "anxious about the future."

"I want to thank all of you for braving this storm," said Cullin during her brief speech. "We have accomplished a lot, but there is a lot more to be accomplished."

The storm Mrs. Cullin had alluded to almost postponed the program. Saturday night was ushered in with the season's first winter storm and I-275 and Michigan Ave. were ice-capped and, when one car sped out of control and almost sideswiped my vehicle, I thought I better turn around and head for home.

I'm glad I didn't.

Westlanders proud of fire department

EDITOR — We would like to take this opportunity to bring to the attention of the citizens of Westland what a fine and responsible fire department we have.

Consider: at approximately 2 a.m. on the morning of January 3, 1983 a water pipe burst in the bathroom of our second floor apartment and quickly flooded our rooms and rooms in two first floor apartments. I tried desperately to turn the valve off but was unable to do so. I could get no outside help at this time in the morning and so I called the Westland fire department. Captain Tom Cokrum responded to our call a few minutes later and shut the valve off.

I dread to think of what would have happened had he not come. I am sorry that the Captain and his uniform got so thoroughly, soaked while doing this good deed.

We are happy to be Westlanders and proud of our fire department. They certainly came through for us in a bad situation.

We appreciate and thank Capt. Tom for his help and courtesy.

Asbestos danger at Romulus High?

EDITOR — I have a son and daughter in Romulus High School. Parents who saw ABC News Closeup "Asbestos: The Way to Dusty Death" on Monday, Dec. 27 should realize that there is an asbestos danger in our high schools.

Years ago some of the ceilings were sprayed with asbestos as a fire retardant. Now the material is crumbling and releasing asbestos fibers into the air.

A state agency has inspected the building and has recommended that the asbestos be removed, even though the asbestos level in the air is below the established occupational health limit.

Dr. Irving J. Selikoff from New York's Mount Sinai School of Medicine prepared a study for the U.S. Labor Department in December of 1981 which said that "for school children there is no minimum exposure level that is safe. Once asbestos fibers enter the lung, they never leave. Such exposure increases the risk of cancer four or five-fold." (National Journal Vol. 14, No. 18, May 1, 1982 p. 778)

Asbestos-related lung cancer may take 10, 20, or 30 years to develop. ABC's "Asbestos: The Way to Dusty Death" showed a man who died in his thirties from asbestos-caused lung cancer. His only exposure was in his parochial elementary school.

Removing the asbestos ceilings will be expensive, but it will not cost less to replace them if we wait until they deteriorate more. You can also be sure that if the ceilings are not removed, any student or employee of Romulus High School who dies from asbestos related lung cancer during the next couple of decades will have relatives suing the district, possibly costing it millions of dollars in the long run. Even Romulus residents who have no friends or relatives in the high school should be concerned about correcting the danger now from a purely monetary point of view.

Voters soundly defeated two millage proposals for one mill to remove asbestos from the high school. Some of them may have voted no because they might not have been aware of the purpose of the proposals which mentioned "maintenance and repairs" instead of "asbestos removal."

It is time for parents and other concerned citizens to form a group to make the public aware that right now some of our kids are breathing in the asbestos that may strike them down at the prime of their lives.

If you are interested in joining a group to work for the removal of asbestos from the high school, please call the board office at 941-1600 and leave your name and phone number with the receptionist.

Here's a strange auto story

EDITOR — The other day I heard something that reminded me of a story I read once, or maybe I heard it? Thought you might be interested, it goes like this:

Two men were talking on a street corner of a small town and the first man said, "Yuh know last year near sixty-thousand people were kilt by cars?"

"That so," said the second man. "I heered it was seventy-five-thousand. They ought to get rid of those dang cars, killing people like that."

First man, "That ain't all. I heer that a million people are crippled for life 'cause of them dang cars smashing them up. Yure right! They ought to get rid of all them blame machines once and for all."

Second man, "Wal I'm glad I got horses."

First man, "Yuh don't say! Wal I guess I don't want any of them either, 'cause old man Jason was kilt with a kick in the head by one of them blame animals last year."

Second man, "Yuh don't say! Wal I guess I'll shoot my old nag. 'Too many people kilt by horses, they ought to be got rid of them, too."

First man, "Say, can I hitch a ride down the road with yuh?"

"Sure can," said the second man, and they both got in his old rattle-trap of a car.

Resident questions Group Home site

EDITOR — Are the Inkster residents aware that the Northville State Center intends to construct a "Group Home" for up to six individuals on the corner of John Daly and Cherry Hill with occupancy expected by May 1983?

As nominated spokesman for the Dearborn Heights residents of this neighborhood, I would like to state that the citizens understand the state laws and the social implications of this sensitive issue; however, we believe that there are extenuating circumstances which warrant a change in location.

As evidence to support this opinion, I refer to a very similar situation which occurred in 1981 involving a proposed group home on Henry Ruff near Westland's Titus Elementary School within the Cherry Hill School District.

In this case, former State Representative, Thomas Brown, was successful in appealing the location of this home to the Department of Mental Health citing these primary reasons:

- 1 — The home was in near proximity of an elementary school.
- 2 — It would be located on the principal route for children walking to the school.
- 3 — The home would be on a boundary street between two cities (Inkster and Westland).

With this precedent in mind, I would like to bring to the attention of Inkster residents the following:

1 — The proposed site of John Daly and Cherry Hill is within one block of the Fischer Elementary School which many Inkster school children attend.

2 — John Daly is the principal route for over 350 kindergarten through sixth grade students walking to the school.

3 — The home will be on a boundary street between two cities (Inkster and Dearborn Heights).

As concerned parents and citizens in this neighborhood, we question the State's judgment in the selection of this site, and we appeal to Inkster residents for support on this issue.

To date we have been successful in garnering the support of the Dearborn Heights City Council and Mayor as well as the Cherry Hill District School Board, State Representative, Richard Young and State Senator, Patrick McCollough. On January 18, we will present our case to the Inkster City Council in order to seek their assistance and support.

In conclusion, we believe that there has been a valid precedent set and we urge our Inkster neighbors to join with us in a common community cause.

Another side to hand gun issue

EDITOR — I'm afraid that Mr. Potter is another of the people who think hand guns are the cause for murder and robbery.

It's true they are used by criminals and that's where the fault is, the pampering of the criminals.

Mr. Potter, in last week's edition of this newspaper, wrote that Japan has a lower homicide rate than the U.S. This is true. It's also true that Japanese Americans have a lower homicide rate than their home country.

There are also no statistics that a home owner is more apt to have his own gun used on him rather than an intruder.

This is an erroneous statement spread by Nelson Shields and Handgun Control Inc.

Psychologist's also say that the suicide rate would not change if hand guns were eliminated. The ultimate goal of the anti-hand gun nuts is hand guns and then removal of rifles and shot guns, they have admitted this in public.

Hand guns are used by hundreds of thousands of sportsmen for both hunting and target and yes for self-defense. 16 percent of hand gun homicides are justifiable.

Isn't it odd that the gun crime rate in England is now many times than it was in 1920?

Any number of studies by very reputable people has shown there is no correlation between the proliferation of hand guns and the crime rate.

Didn't the last elections show these anti gun groups any thing? The latest Gallop Poll shows that the majority of people want no more hand gun restrictions.

IN EVERY POEM I WRITE

*In every poem that I write,
I try my best to tell
A story in some verses
Only pleasure can compel.*

*In every line of paragraph
My hope is I might teach,
A lesson much in need,
As far as it would reach.*

*If it's within my talent
To right a wrong or two,
With every opportunity,
I'd write the whole day through.*

Nor feel that I'm the wiser,
Though any verse that cures one fault,
Is far the best adviser.*

reflections

Who's a cheat, ma?

I suppose this column is sort of an open letter to college graduates, or those who are about to graduate this coming spring.

What I want to say to them is that if they think they are finished with homework assignments just because they have donned caps and gowns and gone through years and years of study, then they had better not get married.

Or if they do get married, they had better not have any kids, because as soon as those kids get in school, mama and papa go back to hitting the books.

That is because all kids bring homework home. And everyone know who does most of that homework. That is probably when cheating became a way of life, what with parents having to do homework, and the laundry and changing diapers and wiping running noses.

Well, let me tell you what brought this all to mind.

One of my grandchildren had brought home his homework, and he sat for five hours nibbling on the eraser of his pencil and whining that he didn't know how to do it.

Finally, in exasperation, my daughter wiped the baby's running nose, changed his diaper and then sat down at the table and did the kid's homework so he could get to bed and get enough sleep to go to school the next day.

When I said something in my grandmotherly way to my daughter, she said, "Mother, for heavens sake, YOU used to do my homework — and you were the one who taught me to cheat!"

That hurt! But then I remembered. I remembered how we were all sitting around the coffee table one evening when this daughter, who was the littlest one at that time, came running in and plopped herself down beside us, and said she was glad we were all home because she had brought her "family assignment" home and her teacher said it was due tomorrow.

"What do you mean 'family assignment'?" her father yelled. "I've got a meeting I have to go to, and I can't be fiddling around here!"

"Family assignments," my littlest kid said, "means that you and mama and all of my brothers and sisters have to help, because my teacher says we learn better in family situations."

"Well, tell your teacher I've been out of school fifty-five years and I have no desire to start learning now. My head is full of holes and nothing will stay in. Tell your teacher it's a waste of time."

I could see he was getting really wound up so I jumped right in and said with my usual motherly love, "Naturally, we will all help you honey..." but before I got the last word out, one of the other kids kicked over the coffee table, pushed his sister in the mouth and bolted out the door.

"I'm not going to be together with her on nuthin'..." he shouted.

"That's the trouble with the world today ... too much togetherness. We breathe in each other's soup, we sleep in each other's beds, and we bathe in each other's bath tubs. Too much togetherness..." My husband's face was turning purple, and when he began beating his head against the side of his Thomas organ, I knew that my littlest kid's teacher had gone too far.

So I grabbed my kid and her homework and I pushed her under the bookshelves and I crawled in after her.

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

"Don't tell anyone we're here," I hissed into her ear. "Just tell me what the family has to do to get you an 'A'."

"You have to write a twenty-five page paper on how you don't let your family cheat. My teacher thinks Spiro Agnew (the allegedly cheating VP of that time) should have had his mother write the paper when he was a little kid. My teacher says that if a mother has to write such a big paper she will make sure her kids won't cheat ... ever ... even if they become vice-presidents."

"You're right, honey," I whispered. "And I read a good analysis on what motivated Spiro Agnew. We'll just tear it out and re-word it in a couple of places ... and see, your family assignment is done..."

"But mom, you are supposed to write it. That's cheating."

"Ssssssssh honey, don't say such a thing to your mother. Mother's never cheat ... it's just that we're so busy..."

local communities to take care of their own, but to take responsibility for what they've done. ...

Strong words, those, from Reverend Rowe, but useful, too. I suspect there was a lot less "grandstanding" in the workshops that followed because of them.

Whether you agree or not, it's all part of the "awareness" we've talked about so often. When you stop thinking about the poor as "people" and see them only as part of your "program", then you're doing it for you and not for them.

And a few people there were honest enough to admit that it's real easy, once you get into this thing, to focus only on ways and means and numbers. ... forgetting that these are real, live, feeling people you are supposed to be dealing with.

As one woman said to me, "The people with the food — and thus the power — have to ask themselves why they are offended, or even frightened, by the suggestion that the poor be given back a certain amount of control by giving them money to spend as they choose. They have to ask themselves if they aren't enjoying too much the power they've been given."

Programs-or people?

Last week I went to a conference in Romulus called "Serving the Poor and New Needy-A community challenge."

It was co-sponsored by Wayne-Metro Community Services, United Community Services and the Downriver Community Conference.

Most of the participants were people who were involved in one way or another in community needs programs. Some have had their acts together for years now, and probably shared more information than they received. Others were just beginning and were there for guidance and direction.

The information was there — in amazing abundance — in fact, I haven't yet had time to digest it all or put it in any kind of order. So that will come later.

I do know — coming out of that workshop — that if I were in any kind of trouble — whatever it was — my first call would be to Community Information Services (833-3430 or 1-800-552-1183). They are the know-alls, hear-alls, see-alls around here and can direct callers in a matter of minutes to the right places.

The main purpose of the workshop, though, was to bring all those "community needs" people together to pool all of their resources and talents into one giant task force and come up with a well-coordinated master plan for taking care of the needy in the out-county area. An ambitious project, to be sure, but if the outpouring of care and energy was any indication, it'll happen — and happen soon.

Of everything I heard and saw — and as impressed as I was — I cannot get out of my mind the workshop's keynote speaker. The Reverend Edwin Rowe is pastor of the Cass United Methodist Church and champion of the "old poor" (as he calls them) in the Cass Corridor.

Feeding the poor is nothing new to him. His church feeds upwards of 1200 people each and every week of the year. But there are some distinct differences between the "old poor" and the "new poor", he says, that must be recognized.

There's a toughness in the old poor — a lack of panic — that you don't find in the new poor. "When you're finding ways of feeding people," he says, "it isn't enough that you worry about their nutritional needs, you have to worry about what it does to these people when they have to stand in line for three hours..."

There was a certain arrogance about Pastor Rowe, as he talked about the arrogance of the people who have elected to take on the task of feeding the "new poor". As one participant said later, "he was a real downer."

But if some of his words struck a nerve, very possibly it was a nerve that needed to be struck. Listen:

• "...we should stop going to meetings about the poor where only staff people are, and start going to meetings where the poor people are ... and if you're going to feed them, don't just feed them — sit down and talk with them.

• "...What goes on is not feeding people, but being known as a person who feeds people. There's a real temptation to grandstand. I call it the 'Mother Waddles of the Year' syndrome. If we're going to be at all effective, we have to get our own need to be stars out of the way.

• "...There's a real arrogance in making people stand in line for food. Give them money instead, so they can go into stores like you and me and buy the same junk food (if they want) that we are able to do ... when we give them vouchers (food stamps, etc.) we put a sign on them. If you give them money, nobody has to know who's unemployed and who's not.

• "...If we're not careful, we will allow ourselves to set up an entire 'Poverty Industrial Complex', where we will be in complete control and we will expect people to be thrilled about the coming of surplus cheese. ... 750,000 poor people is an army which you and I have refused to organize. If we told those people the real truth about how it got that way, then they would insist on organizing, and our jobs might be on the line. ...

• "...and we have to get the federal government not to get

A bright tomorrow...

By SUE BACHAND
ANP Staff Writer

Recession, depression, downswing, upsurge ... exactly what is the state of the economy in Western Wayne County? While some cite the mounting unemployment statistics as proof of the ultimate demise of the auto industry and support system, others claim the recent lowering of interest rates will prove that the country, state and Western Wayne County are finally on the road to recovery.

Exactly what do our local community experts predict for 1983? Is economic recovery a possibility? And what do they expect to happen in the communities in which we live and work?

To answer those questions, Associated Newspapers polled several local leaders to discover exactly what the men with their fingers on the pulse of our local business and industry predicted for our future.

While many community spokesmen had divergent answers and plans for their respective municipalities, they each expressed an uniform and consistent optimism regarding the future of Western Wayne County.

WAYNE

John Zeck, community development director in Wayne is most pleased with the development and status in his city. Zeck proudly pointed out the renovation and improvements taking place in businesses throughout the community and noted that present industry seems to be progressing.

"We do not anticipate any large industry leaving Wayne in the next few months and the city will continue to implement the downtown development plan," John Zeck, Community Development Director, City of Wayne.

"Wayne Bank will open soon, we're looking forward to and anticipate the opening of the new Chuck Muer restaurant, and as far as industrial development is concerned, Ford Motor Truck Plant recently added 10,000 square feet to the plant and will continue to do well. And, the Escort and Lynx are selling well so they are strong in the other plant," Zeck added.

He also cited the recent move of the Wayne County Road Commission back into a building in Wayne and the addition of the Environmental Health Division of the County Health Department as a tenant in the Metro Place Mall. "That's a substantial number of county employees now in Wayne," he said.

Zeck did admit the slow economy had affected Ajax Rolled Ring, Unistrut, Massey Ferguson and Perkins Engines but that "things will be improving for them within the next 12 months, I hope."

The recent return of Burrough to an office on Venoy Road was also encouraging for the city, Zeck noted, "and 3M continues to be very strong."

"We do not expect any large industry to be leaving the city and the city will continue to implement downtown development improvements. Our downtown development plan applies throughout the city and we're working with a number of interested merchants on renovating the facades of their business," Zeck explained.

The planning director explained that with present growth and development, he could foresee only continued improvement for Wayne.

WESTLAND

Bob Matzo of the Economic Development Commission in Westland is also cautiously optimistic about industrial development in his city ... and as he stresses, Westland is now ready and willing for this type of move.

"We have been experiencing the same problems as the state, and we want to try to turn this around," he stated. "We're trying to get everyone involved to pass the word that we are ready for industry. We now have five industrial parks with approximately 400 acres ready for im-

"What we really need is help from all of our citizens to spread the word to people they know in business that we want them in Westland," he added.

Matzo explained that most local governments are going to be more dependent on themselves to raise the revenue necessary to continue city services and that all would be losing money from the state and federal governments.

"From our $19 million general fund budget in Westland, we receive only $9 million from property tax — we receive about $4.4 million from the state and in the future, that figure is probably going down," Matzo said.

Setting the pace in today's franchise restaurant industry

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Don Riesen of Westland is a restaurateur who dares to be different.

Riesen's dedication helps to separate his Clock Restaurant (25935 Michigan Ave. in Inkster) and Clock Jr. Restaurant (33480 Seven Mile in Livonia) from others. After more than 20 years in the food business, he's one owner who knows how to set the pace in the franchise restaurant industry.

"Your restaurant is only as good as the person who's managing it," he noted during a recent interview at his unique Clock Jr. facility. "Ruby Terrell manages the restaurant in Inks. and Bob King is the manager here."

"Our customers are treated like kings and queens. You've got to provide warm service and economical prices to succeed."

The Clock Restaurant located at the corner of Beech Daly on Michigan Ave. remains open 24 hours a day and features homemade bread and baked potato with dinners. At least five daily specials complete the menu.

Among the most popular specials are:

- All-you-can-eat fish dinner (cod) every Friday, includes potato, bread, choice of soup, salad or cole slaw for $3.59.
- All-you-can-eat spaghetti dinner every Saturday, including choice of soup, salad or cole slaw for $3.25.

- Breakfast daily from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. of two eggs, bacon (three strips), sausage (three links), choice of hashed browns or three pancakes, toast and jelly for $2.09.

A number of mini-breakfast specials are highlighted on weekdays and offer a meal at under $2. For the

'Your restaurant is only as good as the person who's managing it.' — Don Riesen bigger appetite there's the chili and cheese or farmer's omelettes ($3.35 each) — and the He-Man breakfast of three eggs, bacon, ham, sausage, hash browns and toast for $3.35.

More than 25 types of sandwiches are available from the luncheon selections, ranging in price from the grilled cheese and tomato sandwich for $1.60 to the club sandwich for $3.35.

Dinner entrees are prepared daily and include such main courses as roast beef, turkey, veal parmesan, fried chicken, pork chops, shrimp, perch and a variety of steaks. All dinners come with a choice of potato, tomato juice, salad or soup.

Homemade cobbler has proven to be among the most popular choices from the dessert list.

The Clock Jr. establishment, located near Farmington Road on Seven Mile, continues to attract diners from as far as 15 miles away.

The reason? An intimate setting of impeccably-kept booths, beautiful Tiffany lamps and attentive male waiters. A rotating dessert case is both eye appealing and tempting to the taste buds.

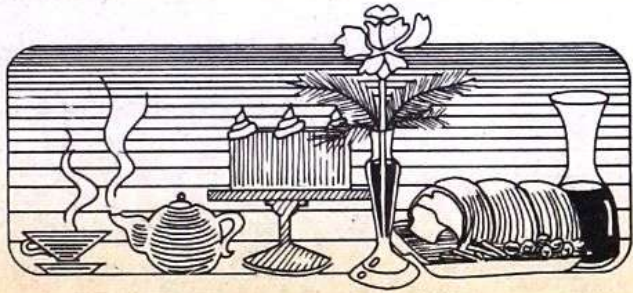

"Most people are surprised that this restaurant in particular is part of the Clock Restaurant chain," admitted Riesen. "Our repeat business here is very good." Open until 10 p.m. daily, this cozy site is simply a nice place to enjoy an affordable meal. Don Riesen will see to that.

The Clock Restaurant at 25935 Michigan Ave. in Inkster offers 24 hours of daily service in a clean, cozy setting. Daily specials and a diversified menu continue to attract diners in growing numbers. Photo by Lothar Konietzko.

Jacque Guernsey and William Ostlund, each of Wayne, will serve as director and producer respectively.

Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $2.50 for seniors and students and may be obtained at the door or by calling 595-6117.

The Spotlight Players are members of the Wayne-Westland Civic Theatre.

Science fiction convention set

More than 700 science fiction fans from the U.S. and Canada are expected to attend ConFusion 101, a science fiction convention slated for Friday through Sunday at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel, 14707 Northvillle Road.

The convention's guest of honor will be author C. J. Cherryh, whose "Downbelow Station" recently was named best science fiction novel of 1982. Many other published writers also will be in attendance.

Among the events on tap are panel discussions and seminars, a science fiction art show and auction, film showings, a writing contest and a masquerade ball set for Saturday night.

Symphony to perform

The Michigan Youth Symphony, which includes four students from Wayne Memorial High, will perform its annual Interlochen Scholarship Benefit Concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at Edsel Ford High in Dearborn.

Wayne Memorial performers in the 98-member symphony are Joseph Veloz, string bass, and Janina Ferguson, Tracy Gibson and Karen Jones, each on violin.

Sponsored by the University of Michigan School of Music, the symphony will appear this year in Dearborn, Farmington, Bridgeport and Detroit. Dr. Robert Culver conducts the group, whose members range in age from 11 to 18.

Sunday's concert will feature selections from Rossini, Faure and Copland. Tickets will be available at the door or can be obtained by calling 349-0036.

Edsel Ford High is located at Rotunda and Pelham.

Admission to the convention is $15, available at the door, and the fee covers unlimited entry throughout the weekend.

The convention — sponsored by the Ann Arbor Science Fiction Association, Inc., in cooperation with the University of Michigan science fiction club — opens unofficially on Thursday with an autograph party from 5 to 7 p.m. at Community News Center, 1301 S. University, Ann Arbor.

A 'must' game for Zebras

Wayne travels to league-leading Taylor Truman's turf

When you already have two losses tagged on to your record, you usually don't see yourself as a title contender, unless you're the Detroit Lions.

And, Wayne Memorial has dropped two "big ones" to Great Lakes 8 Conference basketball rivals, but Coach Dan Vasiloff feels that his minions do have a shot at the league-title if they can dispose of Taylor Truman.

Truman is undefeated in the league. In fact, the Eagles have only one setback, a last second thriller at the hands of Belleville Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers.

Wayne squares off with Truman Friday night and the undefeated Eagles will have the home court advantage.

"This obviously is a 'must' game for us," Vasiloff said. "If we lose, we're three games from first. That's too much to make up. But a victory over there (at Truman) will put us in a good position because Truman must meet Monroe and Fordson on the road. They've won all four of their games at home."

And, the out-of-conference game Friday night against Dearborn Edsel Ford also was a humdinger. A nip-and-tuck affair, with Wayne on the short end of a 28-27 halftime score, the Zebras came alive in the next two periods thanks to Tyress Wimberly and Tony Bass, both of whom had excellent scoring nights. The Zebras also received a superb defensive effort from Gary Billings who held T-Bird Mike Betts to two points.

Betts had been averaging more than 15 ppg. until he ran up against his nemesis.

Wimberly drilled in a career high 28 points and Bass added 16 points while Paulus Robertson hauled in the rebounds to erase the deficit and win a 71-62 decision. That victory evened up Wayne's over-all record to 5-5 on the season.

However, the Zebras couldn't match up to a fast-breaking Ypsilanti quintet that claimed an 80-56 victory over the Zebras earlier last week. Wayne trailed 20-12 after the initial quarter and fell behind by 42-24 at intermission.

'Foul play

Nothing will stop action faster than a ref's whistle, and in this case the finger of guilt was pointed to an Edsel Ford defender who fouled Wayne's Dave Solarz (4) as he was driving in for this jumper in Friday night's action. If the Zebras want anything further to say about the final Great Lakes 8 Conference championship they will have to find a way to stop league-leading Taylor Truman.

Rocket rally nips Franklin

Call it "Rocket revenge." Call it the "great payback." Call it what you will but Westland John Glenn's 68-62 victory over archrival Livonia Franklin will be one that those who witnessed it or participated in it will not soon forget.

The Rockets have been gearing for this one since mid-October, following the 19-7 loss the football team suffered at the hands of the Patriots that cost them the Northwest Suburban League championship.

And for five young men — Jeff Hawley, Todd Jennings, Todd Stein, Craig Thornton, and Jack Walker — this is the game they had circled in red on their calendars.

"It was revenge for the kids," said Glenn Coach Dan Henry of his team. "Every kid had a great week of practice. The game plan, worked out by (assistant coach) Wayne Woodard, was a great one."

Franklin also had this one circled. The Patriots, led by Bob Stebbins who played in that gridiron classic, did not want to lose to the Rockets. One could sense that this game would be a tense, white-knuckle affair that would not be settled until the final minutes of the game.

The first quarter proved to be a barometer of the game as both teams played racehorse basketball. The Patriots grabbed a 19-18 lead helped along by the shooting of 6-1 senior guard Mike Johnson who can shoot with uncanny accuracy.

Johnson scored six points as he helped his team forge that narrow lead. Meanwhile, Stebbins was fast becoming the "darling" of the Glenn crowd as he began missing free throws with alarming (for Franklin, anyway) regularity.

Over on the Rockets' side of the court, Todd Jennings, who knows firsthand of this great rivalry, scored 8 points in the quarter himself as he headed to 13 points, his fourth game in the last five in double figures.

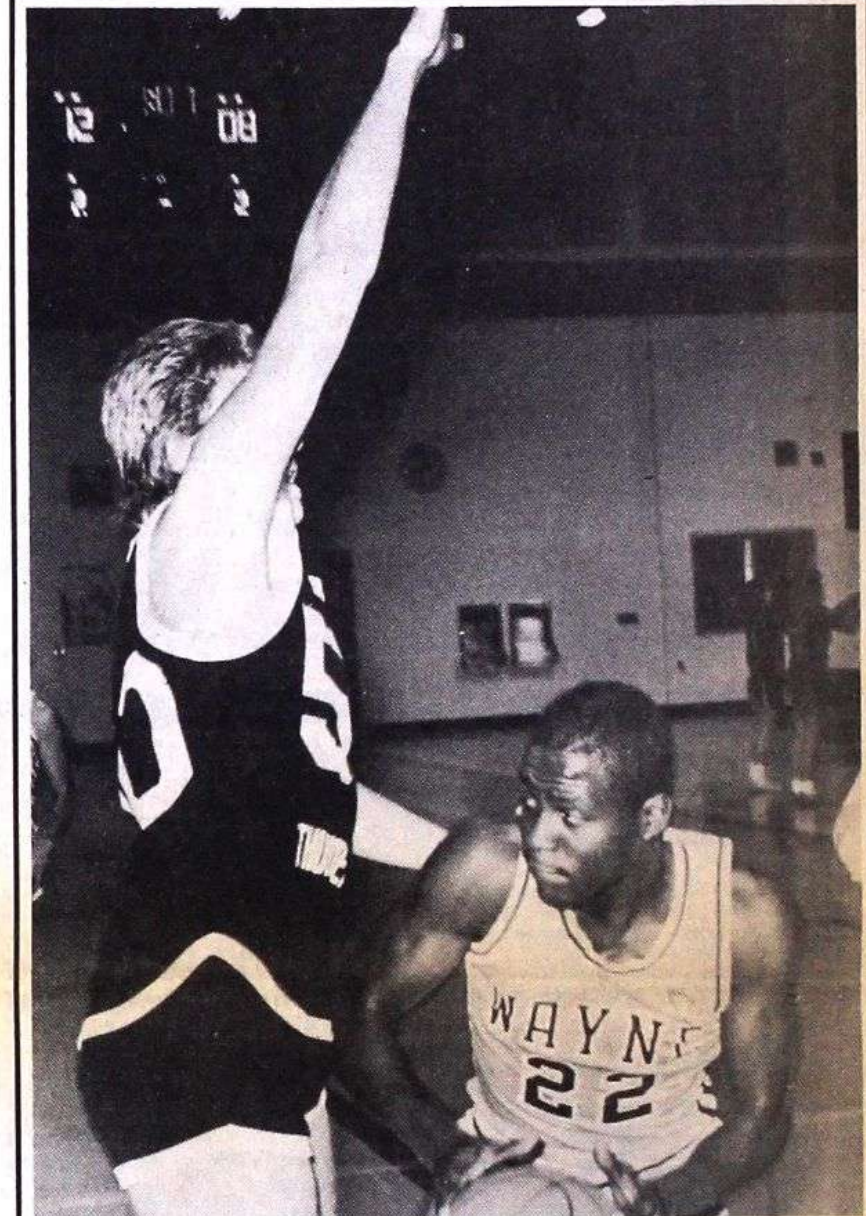

But the play of the quarter came when Glenn was trailing 19-16 with a minute to go. The Rockets ran the stall to perfection until, with five seconds left, Steve Jaskolski hit a shot to pull his team within one.

For the Rockets, it was their ninth win of the season overall and it kept them in second place in the NWSL with a 4-1 record, one game behind Thurston. This Friday, they take on Redford Union, a team that has not won a game for this season. But Coach Henry promises the kids will be ready for this "if they want that game with Thurston on February 11 to mean anything."

The Junior Varsity Rockets raised their record to 9-3 as they easily defeated Franklin, 62-49, behind 20 points from Brad Martin and 16 from Steve Henson.

Detour

Wayne Memorial's Tony Bass (22) comes to an abrupt stop when an Edsel Ford defender suddenly appears during their non-conference duel Friday. But the sharp-shooting Bass managed to find a route around the T-Bird defense most of the evening as he pumped in 16 points to help Coach Dan Vasiloff's Zebras post a 11-62 victory.

Ten Pin Topics

Bowlers also have their ups and downs

By JIM WRUBLEWSKI

Most people take pride and pleasure in a job well done. It can be anything from a super wax job on the car to a well tended lawn and garden to an exceptional accomplishment in sports.

We, as bowlers, are no different. We participate because we enjoy the challenge of competing against ourselves and our opponents. And, remember how happy you felt when you met that challenge by defeating the opponent or recording the high score. You felt so good you may have taken your score sheet home so that you could relive those moments.

The awards program provided by the American Bowling Congress and the Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association also helps you remember that special time by awarding Chevrons, Plaques, Belt Buckles, and many other items for exceptional accomplishments on the lanes.

The ABC distributes approximately one-million awards each year which includes the coveted ring, for a 300 game, as well as a choice of rings, watches, clocks, or desk sets for the 299 and 298 games.

Chevrons or Belt Buckles are presented for such things as eleven strikes in a row, the 7-10 split, the double pinochle, 700 and 800 series, and triplicate games, to name just a few.

An additional million awards a year are presented by the local bowling associations. The Wayne-Westland Men's Association has a "Bowler of the Month" program where the man who records the most pins over average receives a plaque at the annual awards dinner dance, (another function conducted by the local association).

Presentations are also made for going over average by 100 pins in a single game or 150 pins for a 3 game series (for seniors its 75 pins for the game and 125 for the series). The all spare game and the "Dutch 200" (alternate spare-strike-spare) game are also among the achievements recognized with an award.

These trophies, plaques, chevrons are there. Those few dollars you pay for the sanction fee take care of the expense of handling this program. There is something available within reach of every one of us. It's up to you to go out there and earn it.

Randy Oncza, at Westland Bowl, has earned his award in spectacular fashion. In the past we have described how the pressure builds as a bowler strings the strikes on his way toward a 300 game. In that respect Randy was the same as anyone else. What sets him apart is the 10th frame. Randy got that all important 10th strike and, also, the 11th.

But then fate stepped in with a breakdown of the pin setter. Not just a slowdown, but everything came to a screeching halt for over five minutes while repairs were made. He sat through this ordeal trying to compose himself, and, fortunately he was successful because he got the all important 12th strike for his perfect game.

Also, at Westland Bowl those (See BOWL, Page B-5)

Romulus awaits Willow Run

Stunned.

That's the best way to describe Romulus cagers and Coach Al Wilkerson who were seven seconds away from a victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer before bowing 67-66.

Pioneer caught Wilkerson's Eagles, who led by 10 points during the game, thanks to Rick Flynn who came off the bench in the last period and drilled in 15 points including a pair of free throws that proved to be decisive.

Flynn couldn't be stopped by the Romulus defenders. He hit on five (for five) from the field and also sank all five of his free throws which turned the game around for the Ann Arbor quintet.

"I'm really disappointed because we had the game in our hands and let it slip away," Wilkerson said. "Do you know we have five losses by a total of five points since Jan. 1? And the sad thing about all of this is that our kids are playing well and aren't reaping the benefits."

Romulus is looking forward to the return of 6-7 freshman Terry Mills, to its lineup. Mills was injured during the early minutes of the season opener and has been sidelined with a fractured elbow.

"We feel that Terry will be able to help out everyone," Wilkerson said. "He rebounds, scores and passes well. We need someone to help turn things around."

Romulus looked as if it was going to blow the Patriots right back to Ann Arbor as Grant Long, Kevin Baker and Terry Roache quickly set a fast tempo. The Eagles established a 22-16 lead and stayed in front 39-28 at intermission.

With Baker and Roache suffering from excessive fouls, the Eagles slowed down their pace, but still managed to keep a 48-38 margin after three periods. Then, Flynn joined the battle and the pieces were put together for the Patriots and torn apart for the Eagles.

Outscored 25-24 from the field, Romulus had a slight edge at the free throw line where they canned 18 of 27 shots as compared to the Patriots' 17 of 25 performance.

Long finished with 18 points to lead all scorers while Baker and Austin also were in double figures for the losers with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Although Flynn finished with 15, he wasn't the high scorer for the winners. Deco Howard, a 5-10 senior guard, racked up 17 points.

Tuesday night, Wilkerson got a look at Howell, a team that won the Western Wayne Holiday Class last month, then he will host fifth-ranked Class B state powerhouse, Willow Run, a team that handed the then No. 1 Class B team in the state, Inkster, its first setback of the 1982-83 campaign.

Head has set a fast pace. He owns the 50-yard freestyle record at 22.2 and has turned in a 48.9 for the 100-yard freestyle. His 2:05.5 in the 200-yard individual medley also is the best performance in the school's history for that event.

Head's teammate Kirk Wick also was a double winner against the Parkers as he was clocked in 1:18.6 for the 100-yard breaststroke. Wick's 246.6 points topped the divers at this meet.

After taking on Trenton Tuesday night, the Zebras will resume Great Lakes 8 Conference competition at 4 p.m. when they travel to Monroe.

Wayne also will host the prestigious Western Wayne Invitational Swimming & Diving Competitions scheduled for Feb. 4-5.

Ten Pin Topics

"Kids" were at it again when the team of Aaron Mueller (272), Mike Voyles (555), Brian Pritchard (573), Donn Wolfe (661), and John Berlongieri (614) totalled an actual 3130 series. Young Ryan Wilson had a very respectable 682 total in the same session and Daly Yanick, rolling in 9-11 year group, had a 542 series.

Jim Jesson had games of 254 and 252 on his way to a 731 series; Ted Kress hit 286 for 711; Steve Stevens totalled 709; Ted Ratliff had 705; Rick Russell finished with a 7-01; and Bill Peltz experienced the thrill of a 276 game.

Super Bowl highlights featured great shooting by the SunPlastics team when they went a total of 788 pins over their 847 team average to total 3329 for a three game set. They had games of 1049-1172-1107 on their way to that impressive series.

Individual scoring was lead by Conrad Gusfa with games of 274-265 for 717 (174 pins over average); followed closely by Gary Whited with 696 (168 pins over); John Stephens at 692 (152 pins over); Wally Evans with 691; Dave Schwartz had 665; and Andy Sepesi kept pace with a 269 game for 651.

The younger set stood out in the crowd at Lodge Lanes when both Rick Shreckengost and Mark Melidosian, rolling in the 14-15 year old division, had games of 200.

Fiesta Lanes was the site of a bowling program called Coke "N" Bowl for kids in the 8 year old category that resulted in dedication by a young man that deserves "Star of the Week" recognition. Because of the shortage of bowlers Mike Cheff bowled by himself for 18 weeks and used blind scores in place of the missing team mates. Mike not only stayed with it for the full season, he finished in first place which is quite some accomplishment.

Rolling in the same league, Andrea Sidelaczek, who has a 34 average, had a two game total of 116 to go 48 pins over her average which completes scoring news for this week.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Ameri-Therm is the thermally actuated vent damper that's:

- Proven in millions of locations.
- Saves up to 20%* on fuel bills.
- Popular choice of American homeowners.
- Five year limited warranty.
- Thermally actuated to operate efficiently with no wires, electricity, or other power source.
- Eligible for 15% tax credit.
- Available for gas furnaces, boilers and water heaters.

A bright tomorrow...

"We need to build our tax base and one way to do that is to bring in business to help obtain more tax dollars — that will help all our citizens by spreading the tax around and should create jobs.

"To stir the economy, we need help. We need the average Westland citizen to talk to their employer and speak up about Westland as a possible site when a move is considered.

CANTON

In Canton Township, assistant planner Dave Nicholson is looking toward some recovery in the economy. He explained that he expects more residential construction in the township by summer, and that, he feels, will spark some improvement in the total picture within Canton.

"Residential construction will put some people back to work, and that may assist in improving the overall psyche. Right now, people are hesitant to spend money. If with some reasonable construction and some commercial development, I feel we will all ultimately start to come back to life," he said. "Inflation is going down and as more people do get back to work, they do need to make expenditures. As that money gets into circulation it should have a ripple effect, that is, as one business gets the money, they spend it somewhere else and it benefits the total picture," Nicholson explained.

In Canton, Nicholson is looking at the continuation of the Haggerty Road project as well as the Dye Brothers Industrial Development project which has been underway for nearly four years.

"We will continue to contact major developments in the township and we have had some recent confirmation on some very exciting things for Canton," Nicholson said.

He added that his plans include the formation of a development strategy to enhance the potential for development within the township.

"Right now there isn't much business in small commercial service, that is a fact of the economy. Our intention is to do as much as we can in retaining this type of business and in filling up the empty store fronts," he added.

INKSTER

In Inkster, City Manager Wiley Williams noted with some pride the million dollar expansion of Peterson Tool within the city during the past year. That type of development, he noted, is something his city has sought for a number of years.

Army seeks oldest veteran

The U.S. Army Reserve will celebrate its 75th anniversary on April 23, and it wants to include a special veteran in that celebration — the one whose Army Reserve service goes back the furthest into the Reserve's formative years before and during World War I.

Anyone who is an Army Reserve veteran from that era, or knows someone who is, is invited to contact the public affairs office of the 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve), 3200 S. Beech Daly Road, Inkster, or call 561-9400. Contact also may be made directly with Lew Brodsky, director of public affairs for the Office of the Chief, Army Reserve, (ATTN: DAAR-PA), The Pentagon, Washington, DC 20310.

To avoid disappointment, it should be noted that the Reserve seeks people who served in four specific Army Reserve organizations — the Medical Reserve Corps (for medical officers, founded 1908); the Regular Army Reserve (for enlisted Regular Army veterans, founded 1912); and the Enlisted Reserve Corps and Officers Reserve Corps (for enlisted troops and non-medical officers respectively, founded 1916).

Service in Regular Army, National Guard or as a volunteer or draftee in the National Army in World War I is not included. However, the person being sought might have served in those components before or after his membership in the Army Reserve.

All early-serving Reservists, whether or not they are the earliest of all, can contribute to the Reserve's velopment attempt" He added. "We'd like to see more development in our industrial park and we are also talking with at least two developers within the central city. Our hopes are to resurrect what was once a thriving downtown business area," Williams said.

"Our master plan has been constructed to accomodate this development and copies are available to any developer who might be interested," he concluded.

ROMULUS

Mayor Bill Oakley of Romulus is looking for an upswing in the economy in the middle of the year, although he candidly admitted, "I have nothing to base that on."

Oakley feels strongly, however, that an upswing will occur bringing recovery to the whole area.

"I have nothing to base this on, but I think the second quarter of the year will see things start moving up and hopefully things will be better," he said.

Oakley noted that Romulus is presently constructing a sewer on Wick Road which "is a prime area for development."

BELLEVILLE

In Belleville Councilwoman Burma Wertz sees some development in the future, and is cautiously optimistic about what may happen.

"We have recently instituted the city manager type of government and that we hope will save the taxpayers some money. That is first on our list.

"In Belleville we have a sewer and drain connection that needs to be separated and we'd like to get that done. We're also hoping for the completion of our holding cells at the police station," she commented.

We'd like to develop our light industry zoned area and seek some grants for doing so to attract light industry to our city," she concluded.

HURON TOWNSHIP

According to John Chihan, deputy supervisor in Huron Township, his community will remain pretty much the same throughout the next year.

"We have a proposed condominium-mobile home park that we're hoping to get approval for and get off the ground. We're certainly hoping that will be in the very near future.

"We're trying, but we are hampered in Huron by a sewer ban, and development would have to be on an existing sewer line. We really don't have any industrial base to speak of, 90 percent of our tax base is residential and agriculture," he noted.

SUMPTER TOWNSHIP

Township Supervisor Jim Reeves explained that Sumpter is community that is always trying to lure developers.

"We're always trying. The northeast corner of our township is zoned heavy industrial and we're always looking for small industry to locate there," he explained.

"We have made all our data available to possible development through a computer used by SEMCOG (South Eastern Michigan Council of Governments). We're hoping for development now just as we have been for the past eight years.

"Now, however, we are working very closely with SEMCOG and are hopeful regarding the results," he said.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP

While present development and industry appears to be doing "as well as can be expected" in Van Buren Township, Supervisor George Craven isn't overly optimistic regarding new development in the next year.

"We have nothing on the books right now — other considerations we might have are nothing more than talk at this point," he said.

"Really, I can't see anything on the horizon, but the Coca-Cola bottling plant is under construction and that was supposed to mean some jobs for people in the area. Area jobs was one of our considerations and specifications when agreeing to bond the construction," he added.

While no new development is foreseen, Craven certainly doesn't anticipate any loss of industry. "As far as I know, everyone is doing pretty well. Nobody is in asking us for a tax break anyhow. Things are pretty much just as they were last year.

"I really hope that with the lowering of the mortgage rates, some construction will start — that would be encouraging," he concluded.
